CHICAGO, June 15.—Preliminary to a more extended meeting tomorrow, when a number of contests will be heard, some of which may be brought before the National Republican convention Tuesday, the National committee met this afternoon in its session in the Coliseum. After deciding that the contests on delegates at large and district delegates at large, and the various States shall be heard in executive session, each side to be heard in thirty minutes for the presentation of arguments, the committee adjourned until tomorrow at 10 o'clock, when the contests will be considered in alphabetical order, Delaware coming first.

In the matter of contested delegations, the contest on delegates at large in Wisconsin, in which State two factions have elected delegates to the convention, was the first to be heard. Opposed to the Governor, among others, are Senators Spooner and Quay, and Representative Joseph W. Babcock, chairman of the Republican congressional committee, were also here today. The contest, if it is heard by the committee at all, may not be taken up until tomorrow, but some of the members are expected to have concluded to exclude both delegates and let the courts determine the rights of the two factions.

Porto Rican Delegation.

Immediately preceding the hearing of the contests tomorrow the recommendation of the sub-committee having in charge the matter of seating the Porto Rican delegates will be heard. A sub-committee, which has in charge matters relating to disqualification of the Porto Rican delegates, will also make its report. In the absence of Postmaster-General Henry C. Payne, chairman of the National committee, who was unable to be present on account of illness, Senator B. Scott of West Virginia presided. Representatives from Idaho, Washington, Arizona and Hawaii were represented by proxy, and those from Montana, Oregon, Utah and New Mexico were not present. Mrs. Smith has been a member of the choir ever since she was old enough to sing, and has been one of the main ones in the organization, singing a singer of no small ability. The large dancing hall was beautifully decorated with flags and bunting. Dancing was indulged in until about 11 o'clock, when the following program was rendered: Chorus, choir, piano solo, Miss Virginia Smith, speech, Frank Evans, vocal solo, J. W.
